

WRITTEN COPY OF JURY INSTRUCTIONS

I have been reading these legal instructions to you. I will give you a written copy of the same instructions for your use in the jury deliberation room.

Be aware that you must consider these instructions in their entirety and that I am available to assist in understanding the instructions if you need further assistance.

Also, do not rely on the subheadings in the written instructions. They do not add to any explanation that I have given at great length, and their only purpose is to help you, me, and the parties find the appropriate topics covered in the instructions.
