

NOTICE TO THE BAR

Re: 2011 Attorney Discipline Budget

The Supreme Court of New Jersey considered the Report of the Disciplinary Oversight Committee on the proposed 2011 Attorney Discipline Budget, which recommends that the annual assessment for attorneys admitted to practice between three and fifty years remain at $140, and further considered responses to the Court's request for comments from the public and members of the Bar, and determined to adopt the budget as recommended by the Committee.
