

SUPREME COURT OF NEW JERSEY

It is ORDERED that the attached revisions to Appendix IX-A (“Considerations in the Use of Child Support Guidelines”), Appendix IX-B (“Use of the Child Support Guidelines”), Appendix IX-C (“Child Support Guidelines Sole Parenting Worksheet”), Appendix IX-D (“Child Support Guidelines Shared Parenting Worksheet”), Appendix IX-E (“Child Support Guidelines Net Child Care Cost Worksheet”), and Appendix IX-H (“Combined Tax Withholding Tables for Use with the [Child] Support Guidelines” of the Rules Governing the Courts of the State of New Jersey are adopted to be effective June 1, 2019.

For the Court,

h. Self-Support Reserve - The self-support reserve is a factor in calculating a child support award only when one or both of the parents have income at or near the poverty level. The self-support reserve is 105% of the U.S. poverty guideline for one person. It attempts to ensure that the obligor has sufficient income to maintain a basic subsistence level and the incentive to work so that child support can be paid. A child support award is adjusted to reflect the self-support reserve only if payment of the child support award would reduce the obligor's net income below the reserve and the custodial parent's (or the Parent of the Primary Residence's) net income minus the custodial parent's share of the child support award is greater than 105% of the poverty guideline. The latter condition is necessary to ensure that custodial parents can meet their basic needs so that they can care for the children. As of January 11, 2019 [13, 2018], the self-support reserve is $252 [$245] per week (this amount is 105% of the poverty guideline for one person).

19. Determining Child Support and Alimony or Spousal Support Simultaneously

If child support and alimony, maintenance, or spousal support are being determined simultaneously (for the same family), the court shall determine the amount of alimony, maintenance, or spousal support before applying the child support guidelines, except when the court establishes pendente lite support. When applying the guidelines, the amount of alimony, maintenance or spousal support shall be deducted from the paying parent's income (after adjusting for tax benefits, if [known] any) and added to the recipient's income to determine each parent's gross income. This transfer method reflects the availability of income to each parent for the purpose of paying child support.

20. Extreme Parental Income Situations

Although these guidelines apply to all actions to establish and modify child support awards, extremely low or high parental income situations make the Appendix IX-F awards inappropriate due to the limitations of the economic data. The guidelines listed below apply to extreme parental income situations.

- a. Obligors With Net Income Less Than the U.S. Poverty Guideline. If an obligor's net income, after deducting that person's share of the total support award, is less than 105% of the U.S. poverty guideline for one person (net income of $252 [$245] per week as of January 11, 2019 [13, 2018] or as published annually in the Federal Register), the court shall carefully review the obligor's income and living expenses to determine the maximum amount of child support that can reasonably be ordered without denying the obligor the means of self-support at a minimum subsistence level. If an obligee's income minus the obligee's share of the child support award is less than 105% of the poverty guideline, no self-support reserve adjustment shall be made regardless of the obligor's income. In all cases, a fixed dollar amount shall be ordered to establish the principle of the parent's support obligation and to provide a basis for an upward modification should the obligor's income increase in the future. In these circumstances, the support award should be between $5.00 per week and the support amount at $180 combined net weekly income for the appropriate number of children.

Alimony, Spousal Support, and/or Separate Maintenance [Received] - Alimony, spousal support, or separate maintenance payments received from a spouse or former spouse in accordance with a court order are considered [gross] income to the recipient. If child support and alimony, spousal support, or separate maintenance are being determined simultaneously (for the same family), the court should set the alimony, spousal support, or separate maintenance first and include that amount in the recipient's [gross] income (on Line 1c or Line 4b) before applying the child support guidelines, except in pendente lite situations. Alimony, spousal support, or maintenance payments that are being paid to former spouses or will be paid in the future (to the spouse in the current action) are [excluded] deducted from the payor's income (on Line 1b or Line 4a).

The Tax Cut and Jobs Act of 2017 impacted the tax consequences of alimony, spousal support, or separate maintenance, resulting in significantly more cases in which alimony will not be taxable for the recipient or tax-deductible for the payor. There are other reasons that some alimony may not qualify as taxable and deductible under federal law. Alimony that is taxable and deductible will be entered on Lines 1b and 1c. Alimony that is non-taxable and non-deductible will be entered on Lines 4b and 4c.

Types of Income Excluded from Gross Income - The following types of income are excluded from gross income:

- a. [No changes]
- b. alimony, spousal support, or separate maintenance payments (the net amount after adjusting for the tax benefits, if [known] any) to a current or former spouse;

Collecting and Verifying Income Information

- a. Prior to the commencement of a hearing to establish or modify child support, the parties shall submit either a Case Information Statement (R. 5:5-2) or a Financial Statement in Summary Support Actions (R. 5:5-3) to the court.
- b. When possible, the court should determine gross income as follows:
 - 1) Prior to June 30 of the current year, use Federal and State income tax returns, W-2 statement(s) and IRS 1099's from the preceding year. If tax documentation is unavailable, use any other available evidence of current earnings (e.g., paystubs, employer wage verifications, or, for the self-employed, statements of business receipts and expenses). If a joint income tax return includes income of a person other than one of the parties involved in the support proceeding (e.g., a current spouse), the taxpayer or that person's attorney shall be responsible for the redaction of the tax return.
 - 2) After June 30, use the year-to-date income figure from all documented sources listed above. Divide the total gross income from all sources by the number of employed weeks to determine the weekly gross income.
 - 3) If no income documentation is available, income may be determined through testimony or imputed as set forth in Appendix IX-A, para. 10.

Note on Income Documentation: [No changes]

Taxable and Non-Taxable [No changes]

- 1. Income Not Subject to Federal Income Tax [No changes]
- 2. Income Not Subject to New Jersey State Income Tax [No changes]

Note on Social Security Taxes: Social Security tax withholding (FICA) for high-income persons may vary during the year. In the early part of the year, 6.2% is withheld on the first $132,900 [$128,400] of gross earnings (for wage earners in 2019 [2018]). After the maximum $8,240 [$7,961] is withheld, no additional FICA taxes are withheld. Thus, pay stubs issued early in the year may understate net income, while those issued later in the year may overstate it. To estimate weekly FICA taxes, amortize the annual FICA tax using the number of weeks employed or use the Appendix IX-H combined tax tables. Note that self-employed persons must pay the full FICA tax (12.4%) up to the $132,900 [$128,400] limit of all earned income.

Analyzing Income Tax Returns [No changes]

Government Benefits for the Child [No changes]

Line 1 - Gross Taxable Income

Enter the weekly gross taxable income of each parent in the appropriate Line 1 column. Non-taxable income is entered on Line 4.

Line 1a - Mandatory Retirement Contributions

[No changes]

Line 1b – Tax-Deductible Alimony Paid

If alimony is tax-deductible for the payor of alimony [E]enter the weekly amount of alimony or other form of spousal support that is paid or will be paid to a former spouse in the appropriate Line 1b column.

When established simultaneously with child support (for the same family), the amount of alimony, spousal support, or separate maintenance should be determined before the child support guidelines are applied, except in pendente lite situations. Once the amount of alimony, spousal support, or separate maintenance is set, it is deducted from the payor's gross income and added to the recipient parent's gross income for the purposes of calculating a child support award using the guidelines.

Line 1c – Taxable Alimony Received

If alimony is taxable for the recipient of alimony, [E]enter the weekly amount of alimony or other spousal support that is received or will be received from a former spouse (i.e., includes payments from the current as well as any past relationships) in the appropriate Line 1c column.

For non-tax-deductible alimony paid and non-taxable alimony received, see Line 4a and Line 4b.

To determine whether a payment from a former spouse is considered alimony or separate maintenance, see 26 U.S.C. 71.

Line 2 - Adjusted Gross Taxable Income

Subtract mandatory retirement contributions and tax deductible alimony paid from the gross taxable income and add any taxable alimony received to the gross taxable income to obtain the adjusted gross taxable income. Enter each parent's adjusted gross taxable income in the appropriate Line 2 column. (Math: Line 1 - Line 1a - Line 1b + Line 1c)

Line 2a - Withholding Taxes

Enter each parent's combined weekly federal, state, and local withholding taxes in the appropriate Line 2a column.

Once the taxable portion of gross income is determined, the combined federal, state, city (if applicable), Social Security, and Medicare withholding taxes are deducted. As set forth below, four methods are available to determine the amount of combined income tax withholding to be deducted from gross income.

1. Combined Income Tax Withholding Tables (Appendix IX-H) - To use the combined tax withholding tables, the gross taxable income and the number of withholding allowances claimed must be known.

a. [No changes]

b. Individuals must justify claiming fewer withholding exemptions than allowed since this may result in less available gross income per payroll period and may provide the taxpayer with a substantial refund at the end of the year that will not be considered when determining the child support award. Unless a party can show good cause for claiming fewer withholding allowances than permitted, the following standards shall be used to determine withholding taxes from the Appendix IX-H Combined Tax Withholding Tables:

- (1) Two allowances for the parent, and one additional allowance if filing as head-of-household.
- (2) Four allowances for each child if not married and income is less than $71,201 [$69,801] or if married and income is less than $103,351 [$101,401].
- (3) Two allowances for each child if not married and income is between $71,201 [$69,801] and $179,050 [$175,550], or if married and income is between $103,351 [$101,401] and $345,850 [$339,000].
- (4) One allowance for each child if not married and income is between $179,051 [$175,551] and $200,000, or married and income is between $345,851 [$339,001] and $400,000.

(To determine eligibility, see IRS Form W-4 and 26 U.S.C.A. § 24).

Line 4a – Non-Tax-Deductible Alimony Paid

If alimony is non-tax-deductible for the payor, enter the weekly amount of alimony or other form of spousal support that is paid or will be paid to a former spouse in the appropriate Line 4a column.

When established simultaneously with child support (for the same family), the amount of alimony, spousal support, or separate maintenance should be determined before the child support guidelines are applied, except in pendente lite situations. Once the amount of alimony, spousal support, or separate maintenance is set, it is deducted from the payor's gross income and added to the recipient parent's gross income for the purposes of calculating a child support award using the guidelines.

Line 4b – Non-Taxable Alimony Received

If alimony is non-taxable for the recipient, enter the weekly amount of alimony or other spousal support that is received or will be received from a former spouse (i.e., includes payments from the current as well as any past relationships) in the appropriate Line 4b column.

For tax-deductible alimony paid and taxable alimony received, see Line 1b and 1c.

If this information is not available, use the parent's gross income (Line 1 + Line 4).

Lines 25, 26, and 27 - Maintaining a Self-Support Reserve

To ensure that the obligor parent retains sufficient net income to live at a minimum subsistence level and has the incentive to work, that parent's net child support award is tested against 105% of the U.S. poverty guideline for one person. If the NCP's net income after deducting the child support award is less than the self-support reserve, the order should be adjusted. No such adjustment shall occur, however, if the custodial parent's net income minus the custodial parent's child support obligation is less than the self-support reserve. This priority is necessary to ensure that custodial parents can meet their basic needs while caring for the child(ren). The poverty guideline will be disseminated by the AOC each February or when it is published in the Federal Register. The self-support reserve test is applied as follows:

1. Subtract the obligor's child support obligation from that person's net income.
2. If the difference is greater than 105% of the poverty guideline for one person ($252 [$245] per week as of January 11, 2019 [13, 2018]), the self-support reserve is preserved and the obligor's support obligation is the child support order.
3. If the difference is less than 105% of the poverty guideline for one person and the custodial parent's net income is greater than 105% of the poverty guideline, the obligor's child support order is the difference between the obligor's net income and the 105% of the poverty guideline for one person.

In determining whether the application of the self-support reserve is appropriate, the court may need to impute income to a parent as provided in Appendix IX-A. The court should also consider a parent's actual living expenses and the custodial parent's share of the support obligation (see Appendix IX-A, paragraph 20).

Line 16 - Adding Net Work-Related Child Care Costs

Calculate net work-related child-care costs using the Appendix IX-E Net Child Care Expense Worksheet. Enter the weekly net child-care cost (from Line 8 [7] of the Appendix IX-E Worksheet) on Line 16. Since child care expenses are excluded from the child support schedules, such costs, if incurred by either parent, must be added to the basic support amount.

1. Qualified Child Care Expenses. [No changes]
2. Determining the Net Child Care Cost
 - a. Calculate the Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) of the parent paying for child care by deducting moving expenses, one-half of the self-employment tax, IRA and Keough contributions, penalties on early withdrawal of savings, self-employment health insurance cost, and tax deductible alimony paid from that parent's gross income. If this information is not available, use the parent's gross income (Line 1 + Line 4).
 - b. Determine the annual child-care cost.
 - c. Complete the Net Child Care Expense Worksheet in Appendix IX-E to find the net weekly child-care cost to be added to the basic amount.

Lines 33 and 34 - Maintaining a Self-Support Reserve

To ensure that the PAR retains sufficient net income to live at a minimum subsistence level and has the incentive to work, that parent's net child support award is tested against 105% of the U.S. poverty guideline for one person. If the PAR's net income after deducting the child support award is less than the self-support reserve, the order should be adjusted. No such adjustment shall occur, however, if the PPR's net income minus the PPR's child support obligation is less than the self-support reserve. This priority is necessary to ensure that a PPR can meet his or her basic needs while caring for the child(ren). The poverty guideline will be disseminated by the AOC each February or when it is published in the Federal Register. The self-support reserve test is applied as follows:

1. Subtract the obligor's child support obligation from that person's net income.
2. If the difference is greater than 105% of the poverty guideline for one person ($252 [$245] per week as of January 11, 2019 [13, 2018]), the self-support reserve is preserved and the obligor's support obligation is the child support order.
3. If the difference is less than 105% of the poverty guideline for one person and the PPR's net income is greater than 105% of the poverty guideline, the obligor's child support order is the difference between the obligor's net income and the 105% of the poverty guideline for one person.

In determining whether the application of the self-support reserve is appropriate, the court may need to impute income to a parent as provided in Appendix IX-A. The court should also consider a parent's actual living expenses and the PPR's share of the support obligation (see Appendix IX-A, paragraph 20).

NOTE: In some family situations (e.g., the PPR's income exceeds the PAR's income and shared parenting times are near equal), the PPR may owe child support to the PAR (in such cases, the PAR's obligation is a negative number). If this occurs, the self-support reserve should be tested using the PPR's net income and the absolute value of the PAR's negative obligation. In all cases, the PPR should be given the priority with regard to the self-support reserve.

COMMENTS ON THE USE OF THE COMBINED TAX TABLES

Appendix IX-H

Limitations of this Table - This table should not be used if either parent: (1) has income from non-wage income that is not subject to the same taxes as wages (such as alimony or Social Security disability - see Appendix IX-B), (2) claims mandatory retirement contributions, or (3) has a married marital status for tax withholding purposes.

Withholding Taxes vs. Year-End Tax Obligations - This table is based on withholding rates. It is meant to provide an estimate of how much after-tax income an individual has available to pay child support at the end of each week. Year-end tax obligations, adjustments, credits, and tax refunds (e.g., earned income credit, filing as head of household, personal deductions for children) are not considered in this table and may result in taxes that differ from the amount withheld by an employer. When applying the support guidelines, withholding taxes and/or net income should be adjusted based on year-end tax obligations after reviewing tax returns if such an adjustment would more accurately reflect net income available to either parent in future years.

Withholding Allowances - For assumptions regarding the number of withholding allowances permitted by an individual, see Appendix IX-B, Line 2a.

Self-Employed Persons - This table gives the withholding tax for employees who are paid wages for their services. It assumes that the employer is paying a portion of the Social Security and Medicare taxes for the employee (7.65%). To estimate the combined tax for self-employed persons earning no more than $2,556 [$2,469] per week ($132,900 [$128,400] per year), multiply gross taxable weekly income by 0.0765 and add the result to the table amount. For persons earning above $2,556 [$2,469] per week, multiply gross taxable weekly income by .0145 (Medicare), add $158 [$153] (Social Security [FICA] max), and add the sum to the table amount. IMPORTANT: Although this formula will provide an estimate of self-employment income taxes, a careful review of the most recent personal and business tax returns will provide a more accurate tax figure for self-employed persons. Also, see IRS Pubs 505 and SE and App. IX-B (Determining Income).

Non-Taxable Income - Some forms of income (e.g., Social Security, VA, Worker's Comp) are not subject to state or federal income tax. Such income is added to taxable income after combined withholding taxes are deducted. Do not combine non-taxable income with gross taxable income when using these tables. (See Appendix IX-B – Determining Income).

Alimony Income - Alimony received is subject to federal and state income tax, but not Social Security [FICA] or Medicare tax. If the combined tax tables are used for gross income that includes alimony, deduct the Social Security [FICA]/Medicare tax for the amount of the alimony (0.0765) from the combined withholding tax.

Social Security Tax (FICA) - This table gives the correct amount of combined withholding tax only if wages for income tax and Social Security are the same. The Social Security tax withholding rate for wage earners is 0.062. The maximum amount of Social Security [FICA] tax for one year ($8,240/year or $158/week) [$7,961/year or $153/week] is averaged into the table for income ranges above $132,900 [$128,400]. Refer to IRS Publication 15 for more information. Note that some forms of income are not subject to Social Security [FICA] and Medicare tax (interest income, rents, dealing in property). These forms of income should be excluded from gross income when estimating a parent's taxes. Also, self-employed persons must pay the full Social Security [FICA]/Medicare tax on 92.35% of their gross income (See IRS Form Schedule SE).

Medicare Tax - This table accounts for Medicare tax and "Additional Medicare Tax." The Medicare tax withholding rate for wage earners is 0.0145 for all incomes. In addition to the 1.45% Medicare tax, there is an Additional Medicare Tax of 0.9% applied to wages in excess of $200,000. The 0.9% Additional Medicare Tax also applies to self-employed persons (there is no employer share of Additional Medicare Tax).

Federal Income Tax - This table includes federal income tax withholding rates as published by the IRS (see Publication 15 (Circular E) for use in 2019 [2018], revised December 17, 2018 [19, 2017]). To determine the amount of federal income tax for incomes greater than those shown in this table, refer to this same IRS Publication.

New Jersey Income Tax - This table includes tax withholding rates published by the NJ Division of Taxation (see NJ-WT, effective January 1, 2019 [2018]). To determine New Jersey withholding tax for incomes greater than those shown in this table, refer to this same NJ-WT publication.

Note: Appendix IX-H amended May 9, 2019 to be effective June 1, 2019 [May 29, 2018 to be effective June 1, 2018].
