Cumberland/Gloucester/Salem Vicinage Honors Probation Officers
During Probation, Parole and Community Supervision Week

Four probation officers from the Cumberland/Gloucester/Salem Vicinage, Vicinage XV, were recognized by the Chief Probation Officers of New Jersey for their outstanding work. The announcement was made by Assignment Judge Georgia M. Curio during National Probation, Parole and Community Supervision Week, July 21-27.

"I am very proud that these fine officers are being recognized for their outstanding work and dedication," Judge Curio said.

Probation officers perform critical functions in a number of Judiciary offices. Many probation officers are responsible for enforcing court orders for supervision, treatment, child support, restitution and other requirements of the New Jersey courts.

"It is a pleasure to recognize the good work of these individuals. Their efforts not only have improved the lives of their clients, but their clients' families and their communities as well," added Vicinage Chief Probation Officer Robert Miles.
