Middlesex Vicinage to Celebrate Black History Month

Middlesex Vicinage will hold a Black History Month celebration on Thursday, Feb. 27 from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. in courtroom 201 on the second floor of the Middlesex County Courthouse, 56 Paterson St., New Brunswick.

The theme for Black History Month 2014 is "Empowerment and Wellness," which celebrates the historic 50th anniversary of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and provide an opportunity to educate employees on maintaining wellness.

Assignment Judge Travis L. Francis and Trial Court Administrator Gregory Edwards will give opening remarks. The program will feature speaker Superior Court Judge Melvin L. Gelade, who previously served as New Jersey labor commissioner and as an attorney for the National Labor Relations Board. Judge Gelade will focus on the 50th anniversary of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and will discuss its impact on labor in New Jersey.

The program will close with a presentation by Sarah BenYounes-Millot of Rutgers University Behavioral Health Care. BenYounes-Millot will provide information and resources to manage day-to-day work/life challenges.

This program is open to the press and the public.

The program is sponsored by the Middlesex Vicinage EEO/AA Advisory Committee.
