Cumberland, Gloucester, Salem Probation Staff Honored

Seven staff members from the Cumberland/ Gloucester/Salem Vicinage were honored by the Chief Probations Officers Association of New Jersey (CPONJ) at a ceremony on July 17 at the Richard J. Hughes Complex in Trenton.

Gladys Barker and David Bauman received the Certificate of Meritorious Service. Barker is a senior probation officer in the Salem County Juvenile Unit was recognized for her dedication to juveniles in Salem County. Bauman is a senior probation officer assigned to the child support unit in Salem County and is a member of the bench warrant team. The award recognizes his commitment to ensuring matters are handled correctly and efficiently.

A Certificate for Outstanding Achievement was awarded to Senior Probation Officer Cindy Maione. Maione is a member of the Cumberland County Inter-Agency Coordinating Council and attends probation enforcement and transportation meetings. She helped create the parent orientation program for Cumberland County probation.

Patricia Chambers, Margaret DiMatteo, Fred Kimble and Mark Lau received the Career Achievement Award. Chambers, a long-time employee in Gloucester County child support, provides exemplary customer service. DiMatteo is a judicial clerk for Cumberland County probation supervision who mentors and trains new staff.

Kimble has worked for Gloucester County child support for 22 years. He played an integral role in the migration to NJKids, the child support computer system. Lau, who has worked in Cumberland County probation supervision for more than 21 years, is respected by co-workers, clients, judges, attorneys and social service agencies.

Trial Court Administrator Mark Sprock said, “Vicinage XV is proud of the work of our probation division staff and the accomplishments of those being honored by the Chief Probation Officers of New Jersey. Assignment Judge Georgia M. Curio and I were pleased to see their dedication and work recognized at the recent CPONJ ceremony.”
