Chief Justice Rabner to Deliver Remarks at Cumberland/Gloucester/Salem Vicinage Criminal Justice Reform Seminar

What: The Cumberland/Gloucester/Salem Vicinage will host a half-day seminar on the scope, nature and impact of criminal justice reform. Chief Justice Stuart Rabner and Judge Glenn A. Grant, acting administrative director of the courts, will deliver opening remarks.

New Jersey Public Defender Joseph Krakora and New Jersey Division of Criminal Justice Director Elie Honig will provide an overview of the bail reform and speedy trial laws. Local leaders and representatives from the Administrative Office of the Courts will discuss how criminal justice reform will impact our current system, particularly at the municipal level, and how information technology systems will be used to implement reform.

When: Wednesday, Sept. 14, 1 to 5 p.m.

Where: Rowan College at Gloucester County, Nursing and Allied Health Center, 1400 Tanyard Rd., Sewell.
