Todd A. McManus Named Assistant Director for Division of Finance

Todd A. McManus has been named the assistant director for the Division of Finance of the New Jersey Judiciary, Judge Glenn A. Grant, acting administrative director of the courts, announced today.

McManus, of Jackson Township, succeeds Bob O'Neill, who is retiring on June 1. He will oversee the Judiciary's financial operations, including budgeting, financial reporting and purchasing.

Since 2012, McManus has served as the finance division manager in the Burlington Vicinage. Prior to that, he served as assistant controller and operations manager at Manheim Auctions.

"Todd is a conscientious and detail-oriented professional who brings valuable experience in both the public and private sectors. He will do a great job at this very important position," Judge Grant said.
