Brenda Beacham Named Assistant Director of Probation Services

Brenda Beacham has been named assistant director of probation services, effective Aug. 26, Judge Glenn A. Grant, acting administrative director of the courts, announced.

As assistant director, Beacham will lead the supervision and monitoring of adult and juvenile offenders sentenced to terms of probation. She also will have operational oversight of the state's supervision services program and child support services.

Beacham succeeds Liz Domingo, who retired earlier this year.

Beacham has been chief of the Judiciary's Child Support Enforcement Unit since 2014. She began her career as a probation officer in Hunterdon County in 1984 and was later promoted to senior probation officer, supervising probation officer and assistant division manager. Beacham was an assistant chief probation officer in the Somerset/Hunterdon/Warren Vicinage when she was named to head the unit charged with overseeing the collection of child support.

"Brenda's exemplary work in the child support enforcement unit and her long career in probation will enable her to continue to provide guidance and oversight to many critical programs and services for the public," Judge Grant said.

Beacham, who lives in Lopatcong, Warren County, holds a bachelor's degree from Moravian College and a master's degree from Rutgers University.
